

ContainerPower Energy Solutions

Swiss 100 billion energy storage project

Overview

The project combines utility-scale storage with an AI data center and district heating network in an ambitious multi-use development. The Swiss developer started work this month on the technology center following regulatory approval, with commercial operation targeted for summer 2028.

Swiss 100 billion energy storage project

Contact Us

For catalog requests, pricing, or partnerships, please visit:
<https://www.websparafotografos.es>